We are pleased to announce our Keynote Speaker for this year will be The Rt. Rev. Dorsey Henderson

The Right Rev’d Dorsey F. Henderson, Jr., retired as Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina at the end of 2009. He had served as diocesan since his consecration in 1995.

Bishop Henderson is a graduate of Virginia Theological Seminary. He served as seminarian at St. Paul’s, K Street, during his middler and senior years (1975-1977). After ordination as deacon and priest by the Bishop of Southeast Florida, he served as Curate and then Rector of St. Benedict’s Parish in Plantation, and as Dean of the Cathedral of St. Paul the Apostle, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, prior to his election as bishop.

Early in his ordained ministry, Bishop Henderson developed an interest in spiritual formation, especially life in accord with the Rule of St. Benedict; and has had the honor of serving as spiritual director to many. His interest in both evangelism and spiritual renewal was significantly increased as a result of his involvement in Men’s Cursillo No. 17 in the Diocese of Southeast Florida. Since then he has served on several teams in Southeast Florida and the Diocese of Fond du Lac (in Monarch, a companion movement to Cursillo); served as Spiritual Director of the Cursillo Secretariat in the former diocese; and acted as spiritual director for SEEK and Happening weekends for teenagers. His advocacy of Cursillo continued throughout his diocesan episcopacy, celebrating almost all of the Closura Masses in Upper South Carolina 1995-2009.

Primarily because of his prior law practice (with an emphasis in poverty law), Bishop Henderson has served in numerous positions involving the Church’s Constitution and Canons, including the Standing Commission on Constitution and Canons, the Committee on Canons of the General Convention, and member and President of the Title IV Review Committee. He was a member of the Special Commission on the Anglican Communion and The Episcopal Church, charged with preparing The Episcopal Church’s response to the Windsor Report, and co-chair of the Special Committee on the Anglican Communion and The Episcopal Church at the General Convention of 2006.

The central thrust of his Episcopal ministry was to lead his diocese in recapturing the sense of evangelical mission and community of the Early Church. Toward that end, following a diocesan-wide process of revisioning, the entire structure of Upper South Carolina was reorganized around the theme of its long-range action plan: “One Body, One Mission: Changing Lives”; and a commitment as a diocese “To love with the heart of Christ, think with the mind of Christ, and act in the world as the Body of Christ”. Under his leadership, the “Healthy Church Initiative” was launched with the goal of empowering each congregation of the diocese to live more fully and effectively into its Gospel mission.

Bishop Henderson’s undergraduate degree was in history and political science. His law degree is from the University of Florida, and he has been granted two honorary doctorates, one from Virginia Theological Seminary, and the other from the University of the South (Sewanee, Tennessee).
Dear Cursillistas,

On behalf of the clergy and people of the Diocese of Arizona I am pleased to welcome you to our historic and scenic State.

It has long been my opinion that many Christians find their most profound spiritual experiences outside their local parish setting. Cursillo offers just one such important opportunity for spiritual growth. What is especially gratifying to me is to see those who have participated return to their congregations with new energy for leadership, acting as spiritual leaven for the whole church.

Cursillo has enjoyed a renaissance here in Arizona. After more than a decade of inactivity, we have now had about 9 Weekends with participants from diverse geographic areas. A Spanish language Weekend is scheduled for this summer. I have been honored to have been a part of most of these Weekends.

May the Holy Spirit inspire you in the days ahead as you continue to energize the larger church.

Faithfully and with best wishes,

The Rt. Rev. Kirk Stevan Smith, Ph.D
V Bishop of Arizona
What is the National Episcopal Cursillo Conference?

Community...Fellowship...Networking...Small Groups...Old Friends...New Friends
Business Sessions...Workshops...Worship...Music...Breaking Bread Together

Take advantage of what we learn from one another through the gifts each of us brings when we gather. Then go home re-energized, refreshed, renewed to do the work of growing Christ-centered leaders and changing our environments for Christ.

Come early or stay longer – there is much to see and do in the Phoenix area.

While making your plans to attend the NEC Annual Conference, why not think about coming early and/or staying late to help us celebrate our statehood Centennial

There’s no place on earth quite like Arizona. It’s a land of breathtaking canyons, lush desert valleys, crystal lakes, and rugged mountain peaks. Whether you’re looking for world class resorts, dining, golf and spas, or places to bike, fish, hike, or boat, throughout the Grand Canyon State you are sure to find friendly hospitality to match the warmth of the sun. From small towns to urban city centers, each region of the state contributes its own unique character.

As one of the world’s vast and beautiful wonders, the Grand Canyon is a must-see when visiting Arizona. The walls descend more than a mile to the canyon floor and run 277 miles from end to end. While in northern Arizona, ride horseback through Canyon de Chelly National Monument. Experience the eclectic music scene in downtown Flagstaff. View Monument Valley’s striking red sandstone monoliths. Explore the eerie, lunar-like landscape of Petrified Forest National Park. Hike amid the red rocks of Sedona, a devastatingly beautiful landscape of sun-baked sandstone formations.

Central Arizona’s desert is home to the Phoenix metropolitan area and approximately 4 million residents. Encompassing more than a thousand square miles, the area amazes with a rich mecca of diverse experiences. Visit the Papago Park complex that includes the Phoenix Desert Botanical Garden, the Phoenix Zoo, and the Arizona Historical Society Museum. The history of the ancient Hohokam, a people that once inhabited central and southern Arizona, is preserved at the Pueblo Grande Museum. The Heard Museum is dedicated to the accurate portrayal of Native American arts and cultures. It’s a short trip to Frank Lloyd Wright’s architectural landmark, Taliesin West, to shopping in Old Town Scottsdale, and to being entertained at the new Musical Instrument Museum.

Replete with natural wonders, history, and culture, Southern Arizona has been romancing visitors with its Old West charm for decades. Witness an old western shootout in Tombstone, “the town too tough to die”. Immerse yourself in the charm of Tucson with its abundant dining options and its varied downtown shopping and nightlife. Discover the delicate ecosystem of long-hidden limestone caves at Kartchner Caverns State Park. View the star-studded night skies from Kitt Peak National Observatory. Admire the natural beauty of the Sonoran Desert at Saguaro National Park and the Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum.

In Western Arizona you can walk the London Bridge which was saved from sinking into the Thames and relocated to Lake Havasu City in 1967. Visit the Yuma Territorial Prison State Historic Park to get a feel for the harsh hospitality criminals of the Wild West faced.

The ECLW will be led by Nina-Jo Moore, National ECLW Coordinator.

Nina-Jo Moore attended Cursillo in 1977 in the Diocese of Central Florida, and attended ECLW in 1980 in Kansas City when the Roman Catholic movement put on the first “CLW” for the Episcopal movement. She has served on numerous ECLW teams in the last 28 years, and presently serves as the National ECLW Coordinator for the National Episcopal Cursillo Movement. She has been active in her local movement, Diocese of Western North Carolina, for the last 20 years as well as within her local parish and other diocesan activities. Nina-Jo is a Professor of Communication and Associate Dean of the College of Fine & Applied Arts at Appalachian State University in Boone, NC, where she has been for the last 22 years.

Why attend an ECLW?

- To clarify the purpose and method of the Cursillo Movement.
- To provide a background on the intent of the founders of the Cursillo Movement.
- To give people involved in the Movement a clearer understanding of their roles.
- To learn about the tools available to make the Cursillo movement an effective instrument in the work of the church.
- To help the various Diocesan Cursillo Movements find ways to make their respective Movements more effective.
- To help people deepen their commitment to Christ.

NEC CONFERENCE 2011
WORKSHOPS

If you are also attending the ECLW, you will be able to select 2 additional Workshops from the Saturday options.

1. 4th Day First – a means for living out our Baptismal Covenant more effectively through Piety, Study and Action – What do they really mean and why are all three important.

The Fourth Day is the heart of the Cursillo Method. Our heartbeat in this world of constant change is the rhythm of living out our Baptismal Covenant through Piety, Study and Action so that we and other Christians become the apostles that God created them and us to be. This workshop explores that rhythm, what it has been and, moreover, its possibilities. If you are seeking to make 4th Day living more effective and meaningful, this workshop is for you.

Jim Swaney began his Cursillo journey at St. Andrew’s Episcopal Church in Kansas City, Missouri, in October, 1995. He has been active in the Heartland Episcopal Cursillo since 1999, having served on its Secretariat from 2001 to 2006 and continuing several years of service on the Fourth Day Committee of the Kansas City Area Servant Community. He served on the NECC from October, 2003, to October, 2007, and was president the last of those four years. He and his wife, Rachel, worship at St. Michael’s Episcopal Church in Independence, Missouri.

2. Revitalizing/Restarting your Movement

Member(s) of the Cursillo Movement in the Diocese of Arizona share the obstacles and successes they experienced as they started their movement anew after a 10 + year hiatus. It was not an overnight venture but one of prayer and discernment, study, then apostolic action. This panel format will offer a sharing of experiences along with an opportunity for questions and answers. The panel is eager for others to describe their experiences and concerns and to share their recommendations and encouragement as well. It is an ideal workshop for dioceses looking to revitalize a tired movement, and those who are exploring restarting movements currently on Sabbatical.

Janet Kaiser attended Women’s Cursillo #4, Diocese of SE Florida, in May 1976. Cursillo is an important part of her apostolate. She and her husband Rich served on the initial teams for Cursillo Movement in the Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast. Janet has served on numerous teams in Arizona. In 2006 she was challenged by Bishop Smith to gather cursillistas in AZ and begin discernment to revive the Cursillo in Arizona. Carol Williams attended a co-ed Cursillo weekend with her husband, Frank, in Oklahoma in 1977. Since then she has grouped consistently with a wide variety of women. She has served on a number of weekends in Arizona. She also was lay director of Secretariat 2008-2010 and attended NEC Conferences in Colorado Springs, San Antonio, and Myrtle Beach. Carol is currently transportation chair for the local NEC Conference committee, looking forward to greeting everyone as they arrive in Phoenix. Jeffrey Bradshaw was a product of one of the first weekends and quickly became involved on the Secretariat.
3. Clergy – Recruitment of clergy and their Role in both weekend and Fourth Day

Cursillo is not a Lay Movement. It is one of the best examples of team ministry in the life of the church. Clergy and Laity each have a significant role in the success of the Cursillo Movement. This workshop is designed to help clergy better understand and carry out their role, not just on the Three-day Weekend, but in the Fourth Day as well. It is also designed to help diocesan movements recruit, encourage and support clergy involvement in all aspects of Cursillo.

The Very Rev Dr Edward Weiss, a bi-vocational and late vocation priest (also a physician), has been Rector of the Church of our Saviour, Okeechobee, Florida. He is multi-lingual and has served both English and Spanish speaking congregations in various capacities. An active Cursillista for the past 30 years, Edward’s experience, first as a layperson, then as clergy, has included service on the Cursillo Commission, Cursillo Parish Coordinator, Standing Committee and other subcommittees. He has been married to Josie for 37 years, and they have two grown children and two grandchildren. Edward also served as Clergy Representative for the Southeast District on the National Episcopal Cursillo Committee.

4. "What Would Jesus Tweet?"

Did Jesus invent the Internet? We may not know for sure! We do know that He'd encourage the use of all resources to spread the word about Cursillo! The workshop will address: Using electronic information technology to build and sustain effective communication among Cursillo communities; Cost-effective tools and resources for designing and maintaining web sites, using listservs, and making the most of social networking options such as Facebook and Twitter; Using technology to promote Cursillo growth, without losing the heart of our person-to-person approach. Are you involved in communication in your Cursillo Movement – Newsletter, Webmaster, etc., this workshop is for you.

Janet Jendron has been active in the Cursillo movement since 1996. She's currently the President of the Cursillo Council for the Diocese of Upper South Carolina, where she’s also served in many other capacities, including Servant Community Coordinator. She is currently the Web Page Administrator. She has spoken at past NEC Conferences, ECLWs and as the guest speaker at Episcopal Women's Retreats. She works at the SC Assistive Technology Program at the USC School of Medicine in the field of assistive technology for people with disabilities and age-related limitations. She works with web design, information technology and electronic accessibility, as well as social networking. She has a background in international non profits and is currently president of Attachment Parenting International.

5. Informal Dialogue with the Keynoter

This dialogue will provide an opportunity for participants to further explore the content of the Keynote Address. As Bishop Henderson has been a long time supporter of the Cursillo Movement, he is also a great resource on the impact of Cursillo in the ministry of a diocese. (Workshop Session II & III Saturday only)
